ABOUT US

Our mango pulp is derived from fresh mangoes. It can be used to prepare delectable syrups, juice and other items. The mango pulp we export has a sweet taste, texture and fragrance. Mango increases overall immunity and prevents premature wrinkling of the skin. The mango pulp has the real taste of mangoes. The pulp is prepared in the most hygienic conditions. We also offer superb packing and a cost-effective pricing structure. The grades available are Alphonso Mango pulp, Totapuri Mango pulp and Kesar Mango Pulp

Mango Builds up our immune system and prevent attacks of colds. It is the highest Vitamin-A content fruit which is essential to get rid of night blindness and premature wrinkling of skin. Mangoes serve as laxative and should be consumed by people suffering from constipation. A glass of ripe mango juice whipped with milk, honey and finely grated dry fruit increase the body strength, memory efficiency and helps in treating mental disabilities as well. A glass of mango milk before retiring to bed will do you good to get relieved from insomnia due to stress and mental tension. We offer delicious mango pulp extracted from fresh and quality mangoes which are hygienically processed and are stored at the required temperature to provide the real taste of mango
